SCRIPTURE FOR TODAY

ENCOURAGING WORDS

Mean What We Say!

At some point in our lifetimes, we have all said things that perhaps we didn't really mean. We may have had good intentions by what we were saying, but the follow-through wasn't there.

Unfortunately, too often this has happened with the biggest verbal statements of people's lives. Before someone is baptized into Jesus Christ, he/she makes a verbal confession of faith—"I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God," or at least an affirmative, "Yes, I do," to a question asking of such faith. However, for some, they later stray from that faith, allowing "the cares, riches and pleasures of life" (Luke 8:14) to choke out their faith-guided walk with the Lord. This shouldn't be!

There are other verbal statements that we make in our lives that are affirmations and promises. Sometimes we make them as an "automatic reflex" to a situation and maybe even without much thought or real intent behind the words. Consider these examples.

"I'm praying for you." If you find yourself in a situation that calls for this response, please don't say it if you don't mean it. Rather, say it and then do it. Prayer is powerful, but only when we actually pray! Let us truly "pray for one another" (Jas. 5:16).

"Let me know if I can do anything." If you find yourself in a situation that calls for this response, please don't say it if you don't mean it. Rather, say/ask, "I want to do something to help. Give me one idea of something I can do." Be proactive rather than passive! Let us truly "do good" unto one another, and not just "speak good" (Gal. 6:10).

If you make a promise, if you make a commitment, if you give your word, "speak truth" (Eph. 4:25) and not just what you think someone wants to hear.
