PRAYER IS IMPORTANT

-Jan Hayes was in the ER Wednesday evening for a while suffering from chest pains. The doctors were able to relieve the pain and she was released late. She will have doctor appointments this week to follow up and determine the cause. Please keep her husband Jerry and the family in your prayers.

-Chris Wadlington had emergency surgery Tuesday to replace a shunt that had broken. He is doing much better and was released Wednesday. Please remember him and Vickie in your prayers.

-Marin's Aunt Catherine was accepted to a medical trial. Please pray this goes well for her and her cancer.

-Mavis, from the SNF passed away Tuesday night. Her husband Jim passed a couple of weeks ago. Please remember the family in this sad time.

-Loretta Bower is traveling. She will be gone a couple of weeks. Please keep her in your prayers for safe travels.

-Glen and Hazel Thompson and Kevin & Ann are traveling also. Please keep them in your prayers.

-Karen Anderson is still at USC. She has suffered a stroke as well and not doing well. Her sisters are with her. Please remember her in your prayers.

-Debbie Falcon is home recovering from her knee surgery. She will be off of it for another 5 weeks and then will face more surgery. Remember her and Gabe in your prayers at this time.

SKILLED NURSING FACILITY

Please remember those of our number and others residing in the SNF: Dave Swain, Larry Lang, Walter, Mary, Lillian Mock and Reggie. Keep them in your prayers.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The only disability in life is a bad attitude.
~Scott Hamilton

SCRIPTURE FOR TODAY

Show a gentle attitude toward everyone. The Lord is coming soon. –Philippians 4:5

ENCOURAGING WORDS

“Laid on my Heart”

There is an expression frequently heard on religious television and radio. All too often the man who is doing the preaching will say something like, “I want to share something with you that the Lord laid on my heart.” Of course, it is not just televangelists who say this, but a common saying among religious folks. I don’t want to call anyone’s sincerity into question, but how should we understand a statement like that? How can we know if the Lord really did lay something on a person’s heart? Is it a legitimate thing for people to say or claim?

In Deut. 18:20 the Lord spoke through Moses about “the prophet who presumes to speak in my name.” Such a prophet would probably say things like, “The Lord told me that such and such was going to happen,” or, “The Lord laid this on my heart to share with you.” That prophet may sincerely believe that what he is saying is really “from the Lord,” but is it? To presume the Lord has spoken does not mean He has!

How can I know the will of God? First, I need to realize that God’s revelation has been once for all delivered” –Jude 3– which means no further revelation will be made. Second, I need to accept that God’s revealed will in His Word is complete and all sufficient –2 Tim. 3:16-17– supplying me with everything I need to live and to serve God –2 Pet. 1:3. Thirdly, and as important, I need to admit that if I believe God laid something on my heart, then someone else has an equal right to claim that God has laid the complete opposite on his heart, and who then is to say which one is “right” and which one is “wrong”!

That’s why God’s Word is perfect, complete and the final standard in all things! –Jn. 12:48
