

2017
I Am Resolved to Make 2017 a Great Year!

How Wealthy Is Your Home

In January 2017, the most expensive home ever listed in America was put on the market in Bel Air, Los Angeles for $250 million. The home had everything that anyone could ever want, including a helicopter, car collection, twenty one bathrooms and $200,000 worth of candy. But, did you know that your home can be much more valuable than that?

The wise Solomon wrote, "In the house of the righteous there is much treasure" (Prov. 15:6) or "great wealth" (NASB). The treasure in the home of the righteous is much more valuable than any material wealth in any earthly home. Rather than "things" (Luke 12:15) that are subject to wear, tear, decay and theft (Matt. 6:19; 1 Tim. 6:17), the righteous enjoy heavenly values, spiritual blessings, agape love, incomprehensible peace, inexpressible joy, living hope and the promise of an "incorruptible and undefiled" inheritance "that does not fade away" (1 Pet. 1:4).

How wealthy is your home? It has nothing to do with you check book or savings account!

ENCOURAGING WORDS

The Customer Is Always Right

"The customer is always right" is a business motto we have all heard/ we, as consumers, have become even more powerful with the popularity of social media. Back in the 1900's, a business did not have to worry about a disgruntled customer. Who were they going to tell? Now, Fortune 500 companies have been forced to make big changes in their business models because of what customers posted with their phones. Hello, United Airlines! These companies have also been able to use the media outlets to market and fine-tune their products to the customers in almost "real-time." the power of the customer has grown to drive change in a more profound way!

How has consumerism affected religion? In one way, families are shopping for churches to attend. They want the one that fits their family needs and lifestyle. Theology has become secondary to the perceived needs of the family unit. Many are no longer looking for truth but are looking for what they can get out of it. Churches are picking up on this and are marketing their religious groups to those who are shopping. The pulpit gets softer, the music gets louder and lines in the sand get replaced with broad ideas of acceptance in the name of God's grace. The consumer is always right, and God, well, He understands?!

When it is brought down to it's most basic element, consumer Christianity isn't anything new, it's just packaged differently. The Bible talks about it this way. "Join together in following my example, brothers and sisters, and just as you have us as a model, keep your eyes on those who live as we do. For, as I have often told you before and now tell you again even with tears, many lives as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their destiny is destruction, their god is their stomach, and their glory is in their shame. Their mind is set on earthly things." Phil. 3:17-19

Those who follow their appetite rather than the pattern given to us are consumers; If I make worship about what I get out of it instead of what I am offering God, I am a consumer, and to those who put their needs and wants above those of Jesus He will say to them at the day of judgement "I never knew you."
